MAKE-UP ARTIST

2021 Makeup Lessons

No matter if you're a total beginner or a professional make up artist, with my private make up lessons I will share all of my favorite professional make up tips and tricks with you! Once we've finished you'll be able to incorporate everything you've learned into your every day make up routine and/or enhance your art for your clients.

Option one.

One on one industry or non-industry

Private, two hour recommended, make up lesson personalized for your desired make up look. For a non-industry client I will demonstrate the proper make up techniques on one side of your face while you replicate those techniques on the other; for an industry client, you will be duplicating the look on a model of your choice. Throughout the process I will be providing feedback to better your technique for a seamless application.

Requirements

Non-industry: Please have your own makeup products as well as tools/brushes

Industry: Please bring your full kit as well as a model of your choosing

A giveaway bag will be provided with a few of my favorite products!

Option two.

Girls night in

This will be a more relaxed setting where you and your friends can learn together! In this lesson I will bring a model and demonstrate one makeup look of your choosing; whether it be everyday natural or full glam. During the demonstration each person can practice their own application of the selected look while asking questions and gaining product knowledge.

Requirements

Please ensure each attendee will have their own makeup products as well as tools/brushes

A giveaway bag will be provided with a few of my favorite products!

Option three.

Group industry

This lesson is geared towards professionals who desire to perfect their craft. Usually this class is focused on bridal looks, however, other looks can be concentrated on upon request. During our time together I will go over kit organization, application for different skin types/ages, product knowledge, proper use of tools/brushes, hygiene and more ! You will be following along step by step on your model.

Requirements

Please ensure each attendee will have their full kit including skincare, makeup products as well as tools/brushes
Please have each attendee bring a model of their choosing
